

A Message from Your Alumni Board

We want our alumni community to be a place where all our alumni feel safe, welcome, and heard. A place that offers you ways to rejuvenate and allows you time for yourself. This year, your alumni board is working on several programs and initiatives designed to support you in the workplace and at home; programs that are inclusive, accessible, and promote belonging. Listen to what your RSPH Alumni Board President, Elizabeth Sprouse 18PH, has planned for this year.

Alumni Spotlight: Jamie Schenk, MPH

Jamie is a 2015 Environmental Health alumna who not only works as a scientific and engineering consultant with Exponent but also leads our regional alumni group in San Francisco (RollinsSF). As RollinsSF Chair, Jamie organizes social events, professional development programs, and community service activities to connect our more than 300 Rollins alumni in the Bay Area.

Careers & Networking

Career Tip: 10 Tips for Virtual Interview Success

While COVID-19 has made virtual interviewing a necessary practice, its popularity amongst employers is likely to stick post-pandemic. That's because virtual interviewing is convenient for employers, allows for a more efficient interview process, eases scheduling conflicts, saves money, and broadens the candidate pool. And while virtual interviews are often conducted much the same way as face-to-face interviews, they do require special considerations and adjustments. READ our key recommendations on how to make your virtual interview a success.

Tap into Your Alumni Network

Online networking has become an essential way to stay connected to our communities. Emory Connects is our exclusive networking platform and allows you to connect with Emory graduates and students around the world.
